Drinks and drugs, noise, sickness... welcome to the Crack Whore Society! Descending from the Punk and Hardcore scene of the early 90s the mission of this Berlin based band can now clearly be defined as ADDICTIVE SCENEMUSIC! The guys around Frontman Patrick Schulz have just finished the recording sessions of their self titled debut album which will be released on Angora Steel in late Summer 2007.

The outcome are 14 songs in only 35 minutes - fast, hard, on point! The raw production was done by T.Raumschmiere (Shitkatapult/Mute) who left his monster truck in the parking lot and got into the driver's seat behind the Crack Whore boards. The final touch was contributed by Christian Vogel (another former techno legend and partner in crime of the former side Jamie Lidell) who is responsible for the master of the sound.

The band itself consists of Mario Bender (guitare), Kar M... (guitare) and Marco Haas (drums). For live performances they get support from the experienced master of low frequencys Andreas Paruschnke (member of the T.Raumschmiere Band). Sticking together they spit out such an extreme tight wall of sound making ferroconcrete look like candyfloss. SICK AS FUCK, TWICE AS HARD! This should make fans The Bronx, Smokeblow or Beatsteaks feel comfortable...

"Lowrider" is the advance single to the album and features an exclusive Motor remix on the b-side. The 7" is printed on white vinyl and is strictly limited to 666 handnumbered copies - collectors item!!!
